Toronto Food Film Fest announces official film lineup.

TORONTO –Toronto Food Film Fest, Ontario’s only food & film festival, is proud to announce its film selection for the 2020 season.

Toronto Food Film Fest made the difficult decision to move the festival online, which will be running from October 16th through to the 25th. Patrons can access the films from the comfort from their own homes through the Toronto Food Film Fest website. Single tickets and passes will be available for purchase.

The upcoming annual festival will include 19 films and virtual access to notable guests for panels and inspiring food workshops. Patrons can choose to enjoy a “screen to plate” experience by pairing their screenings with meals from curated local restaurants and vendors.

The festival is excited to announce its list of films. Among those being showcased are the well received, Fish & Men for their Toronto premiere, Baristas from Canadian Director Rock Baijnauth, and Polish-Vietnamese drama, The Taste of Pho.

Announcements listing the full program including workshops, panels and talks to come.
